NEW IFFTI MEMBER INDUCTION PROCESS

New IFFTI Member Induction process

1. The IFFTI Executive through a welcoming session at the IFFTI conference will induct new members. This session will be most likely held on the General Council meeting day.
2. The Chair and other Executive Members will brief new members on the benefits and usual proceedings for IFFTI membership, questions can be asked at this time.
3. New members will be provided with a mentor who is either an existing IFFTI Executive Member or a regular member experienced in IFFTI conferences and the running of IFFTI events.
4. New members will be asked to do a short presentation on their institute as an introduction to existing members.

IFFTI Membership Frequently Asked Questions

Q1. How do I become involved in a Sub Committee?

A1. The first step is to volunteer to become a member of a Sub Committee. The Sub Committees are as follows,

- Research Sub Committee
- Finance Sub Committee
- Membership Sub Committee
- Education Initiative Sub Committee
- Education Industry Interaction Sub Committee

Each of the Sub Committees has a chair that is a member of the Executive Committee and reports back to the Executive any recommendations of the Sub Committees. The Sub Committees meet in full at the conference once a year and in part at the Executive meetings.

Q2. How can I join the Executive?

A2. The Executive is comprised of a number of representatives from each region. 10 Regional Members, representatives from each of the geographical regions of the Americas, Europe, Asia and Oceania. These 10 members are elected by regular IFFTI Members from their respective regions.

Q3. Who are the other members?

A3. IFFTI has over 50 institutes as members, the details of each institute and of their IFFTI representatives can be found on the IFFTI website.

Q4. How do I meet other members?

A4. New members will have an opportunity to meet the Executive at a specifically designated time during the first conference you attend; this is usually on the second day of the conference, the Secretary will notify you of the details. Following this there are many opportunities for you to introduce yourself and begin collaborations with other member institutes.

Q5. What happens at the General Council?

A5. At the General Council all issues discussed by the Executive are presented to member's representatives at the event. A printed hard copy of minutes and notifications are created for every institute in attendance as a record of all activities discussed and any new initiatives created. Any new recommendations are presented discussed and a vote is held and new actions and changes are endorsed. It is important you have a representative at all the General Council meetings.

Q6. Can my institute host an executive meeting or a conference?

A6. The IFFTI Executive often visits new member's institutes through hosting a meeting. The Executive requires a meeting room to house 20 members for two days further details are available by discussing with the IFFTI Secretary.

Q7. What are the costs and expectations of hosting a conference?

A7. Conferences are held once a year at an IFFTI member Institute. Some of the costs are supported by IFFTI and the rest are borne by the host institute. The IFFTI Secretary can provide full details of hosting a conference.

Q8. What are my obligations as a member?

A8. Members are expected to attend conferences and participate in the General Council. Also to make all the opportunities of the IFFTI organisation known to your organisations staff and students where appropriate.

Q9. What are the benefits to my institute and staff as an IFFTI member?

A9. There are many benefits ranging from paper presentations, Senior Faculty awards, junior faculty awards, faculty exchange initiatives and PG or UG student awards. In addition there are many opportunities for collaboration with other members, full details are available on the IFFTI website.

Q10– How can I participate in one of the above mentioned Initiatives?

A10- A call for papers is sent out before each Conference. While submitting your abstracts you should mention the initiatives for which you wish to be considered. This should be accompanied by an appropriate certificate from you HOD/Head of Institution.

Similarly a call will be circulated for the faculty initiate together with relevant instructions on the procedures

Q11. How do I know what other institutes are members?

A11. There is a list of IFFTI members provided on the website with contact details and links to each members website. Also members names appear in the agenda of the Annual Meeting of the IFFTI General Council held annually.
